Bio:

Steph Yeager and the Plutopians is a folk rock band formed in 2018 by Steph Yeager and Justin Birchard. The longtime friends have worked on many projects in the past including Steph's first album Campfire Sessions. Their new album Big Sky Redemption is set to release in early 2019 with songs that range from intimate and vulnerable to rowdy and reckless. It's easy to hear the years of songwriting experience that this duo brings to their live performances and recordings. Steph's versatile, soulful voice is unmistakable, and Justin's thoughtful multi-instrument arrangements provide texture, depth, and color.

Steph lives in Livingston, MT and performs regularly throughout the state. Justin lives near Chicago and performs frequently in the Midwest. It's a unique arrangement that spans more than 1,000 miles. Working remotely together every week, the two have become a well-oiled, DIY machine and have been steadily releasing content all year.
